Re: Testing and Implementation of an Electronic Hand-Held Tallying System at VGT

Dear Sirs,

As part of our continuous efforts to improve the current cargo operations at Grand Harbour, VGT is currently testing an Electronic Hand-Held Tallying System.

The objectives of the Electronic Tallying system are to provide rapid and more robust data collection system which will be more beneficial to the terminal operator, consignees and trailer operators in general.

As with all new technology and systems implementation, we appeal to your understanding and patience during this period of time.

We shall be contacting various industry representatives on how you may benefit from the system once we have completed its implementation.

Yours faithfully

Wyekeong Lai
